

JESUS COLLEGE

RESEARCH ETHICS POLICY

The College is committed to ensuring that its members' research activities involving human participants are conducted in a way which respects the dignity, rights, and welfare of participants, and which minimises risk to participants, researchers, third parties, and to the University and College.

In accordance with its policy on research involving human participants and personal data, the University requires that all such research be subject to appropriate ethical review. This process applies to all joint College-University postholders.

College-only appointments are also subject to this process.
